

HIGH-LEVEL SCOPING & PLANNING SERVICE

The key to planning your technology budget through times of uncertainty is understanding areas of risk that increase ballpark costs.

---

What do we do?

- We produce high-level descriptions of the project's functional and non-functional requirements
- We provide an improved ballpark cost to build the intended solution, with a rough project plan and high-level technical architecture

What are the benefits?

- More accurate high-level ballpark costs
- Get independent costing advice based on professional documentation
- Clarity on the path forward with a timeline and approach

When to use it?

- Projects in an early stage to get a sense of investment/timeline required
- Projects that need flexibility in scope and budget as they progress
- Projects that have problems with existing tech suppliers
